Philosophy for AS and A Level

Hodder Education

Standing at the crossroads of psychology and religion, this catalyzing work applied the scientific method to a field abounding in abstract theory. William James believed that individual religious experiences, rather than the precepts of organized religions, were the backbone of the world's religious life. His discussions of conversion, repentance, mysticism and saintliness, and his observations on actual, personal religious experiences - all support this thesis. In his introduction, Martin E. Marty discusses how James's pluralistic view of religion led to his remarkable tolerance of extreme forms of religious behaviour, his challenging, highly original theories, and his welcome lack of pretension in all of his observations on the individual and the divine.

How to Get an A in A Level

Philosophy OUP Oxford

First Published in 1994. Is there such a thing as right and wrong? Are some codes of behaviour more justified than others? Is it foolish to believe in moral principles? Is 'virtue' just a quaint

Victorian term and does anyone care in any case? The Puzzle of Ethics tackles these formidable questions and many more in a clear and easy to understand manner without every becoming superficial. Throughout the approaches of major philosophers are explained and specific issues are addressed, including: Just War theory, situation ethics, abortion, euthanasia, as well as Buddhist, Hindu and Islamic ethics. This challenging book is of considerable relevance, dealing as it does with the central areas of ethical concern in today's world. It is the ideal introduction to the field for students.

How to get an A in A level philosophy is the course textbook written with the student in mind. Focused on the AQA philosophy syllabus from 2017 onwards (7172), this book covers all four modules in a simple, concise, and focused manner. Using plenty of examples, each idea is broken down into what that idea is, the arguments for that idea, and the arguments against. Later sections explain (with examples) how to communicate these ideas and arguments to achieve maximum marks in the exam. Inside you will find: * Explanation of syllabus topics for all four modules: ◦ Epistemology ◦ Moral philosophy ◦ Metaphysics of God ◦ Metaphysics of mind * Bullet point summaries at the end of each module * Exam blueprint for each question type with examples * Example 25 mark answer plans on every major topic * 3, 5, 12, and 25 mark practice questions * Glossary of key terms
