James Rizzi's brand-new catalog raisonné gives a fascinating overview of the famous New York Pop Artist's work from 1993 to 2006. In the retrospect part the authors provide an insight into the life and work of the artist. Some of the early work are shown in print for the first time ever. With over 380 pages, 800 partially full page reproductions and more than 100 photographs, this is the ultimate James Rizzi book. Written in English. Printed in Germany with Aniva colors on fine art paper.

First renowned as a supplier of theatrical textiles to Broadway and beyond, Maharam pioneered the concept of engineered textiles for interior applications in the sixties, and is the world's leading provider of textiles to commercial architects and interior designers. Maharam takes a holistic view of design, embracing a range of disciplines including architecture and interiors, furniture, fashion, accessories, graphic and digital media. The Maharam Design Studio oversees the cultivation of an extensive textile collection, ranging from re-editions of enduring designs by the twentieth century's most noted visionaries to textile-based collaborations with industry outsiders including Konstantin Grcic, Hella Jongerius, Maira Kalman, Bruce Mau, Jasper Morrison, Nike and Paul Smith, among others. The publication provides a comprehensive overview of the company's history, cultural markers and design projects. Abstracted product applications are featured through "Useless Objects," a collaboration with Jasper Morrison. AUTHOR: Michael Maharam is the principal of Maharam, the nation's leading supplier of textiles to commercial architects and interior designers. ILLUSTRATIONS 200 illustrations *

The South American Spider Genera Mesabolivar and Carapoia (Araneae,Pholcidae) Distanz
 This volume provides new insights into gendered interactions over the past two centuries between Germany and Asia, including India, China, Japan, and previously overlooked Asian countries including Vietnam, the Philippines, Thailand, and Korea. This volume presents scholarship from academics working in the field of German-Asian Studies as it relates to gender across transnational encounters in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Gender has been a lens of analysis in isolated published chapters in previous edited volumes on German-Asian connections, but nowhere has there been a volume specifically dedicated to the analysis of gender in this field. Rejecting traditional notions of West and East as seeming polar opposites, their contributions to this volume attempts to reconstruct the ways in which German and Asian men and women have cooperated and negotiated the challenge of modernity in various fields.

This publication is a substantial archive and a singular point of entry into thinking with and understanding Andrea Fraser's work and reception. The interview format provides intimate insight into Fraser's self-positioning as a central aspect of her practice. By presenting the artist's voice as mediated through interlocutors ranging from professional peers to popular media, Collected Interviews 1990-2018 uniquely contextualises Fraser's practice in the artistic, institutional, and discursive fields in which she intervenes. As Fraser is engaged, challenged, and understood from diverse perspectives, readers learn as much about her artistic commitments from the artist's humour and affect as from her incisive analyses. The collection spans three decades, from the early 1990s to the present, and is organised chronologically with minimal editing. The collection's unmediated format allows Fraser's key ideas and themes to attain deeper resonance through repetitions and subtle differentiations over multiple conversations.

The Nation in the Village Lonely Planet

A work overflowing with exuberant, humorous, and colorful paintings, and three-dimensional limited edition prints, inspired by the artist's native New York.

Mission Continues Philipp Winterberg

In May 2009, thirty-five theologians from Asia, Africa, and Europe met in Wuppertal, Germany, for a consultation on mission theology organized by the United Evangelical Mission: Communion of Thirty-five Churches in Three Continents. The aim was to participate in the 100th anniversary of the Edinburgh conference through a study process and reflect on the challenges for mission in the twenty-first century. We decided not to invite renowned experts, but to have an open invitation through a call for papers, so that practicing mission experts not yet well known would have an opportunity to share their expertise. We decided not to predetermine a theme or motto for the consultation but to allow various themes on mission to emerge from the papers themselves and thus to allow wide-ranging discussions. Indeed the papers were varied; each drew strong reactions, lively and even controversial debates. We were able to discover common concerns transcending very different contexts. The collection of papers in this book has been taken from the papers delivered at the Wuppertal consultation. In some cases, short responses by one or two of the consultation participants were added to highlight the discussions that followed. The very varied voices collected in this anthology nevertheless have much in common: Even where they are most theoretical it is obvious that all contributors come from missionary practice and bring in their contextual experiences.

Poetry. Asian & Asian American Studies. Film. SHEEP MACHINE is a textual inscape, a poetically painted nonfictional pasture where mechanical violence and visceral fear coalesce into a kind of science prosody, a post-human panorama whose beauty lies in the ruins of reality it depicts. Influenced by Leslie Thornton's film of sheep feeding in a field as a conveyor belt of cable cars ascend and return from a mountain in the Swiss Alps, Vi Khi Nao takes perception into tumultuous terrains, into a pastoral-celestial void in which temporality is transcended, progress is a bourgeois invention, and god is a liability for our life spent in hunger and grazing. Vi Khi Nao's SHEEP MACHINE is grace said at the ontological last supper.

Oxygen uptake for metabolic energy demand and the elimination of the resulting carbon dioxide is one of the essential processes in all higher life forms; in the case of animals, everything from protozoans to insects and vertebrates including humans.  Respiratory Biology of Animals provides a contemporary and truly integrative approach to the topic, adopting a strong evolutionary theme. It covers aerobic metabolism at all levels, from gas exchange organs such as skin, gills, and lungs to mitochondria - the site of cellular respiration. The book also describes the functional morphology and physiology of the circulatory system, which often contains gas-carrying pigments and is important for pH regulation in the organism. A final section describes the evolution of animal respiratory systems. Throughout the book, examples are selected from the entire breadth of the animal kingdom, identifying common themes that transcend taxonomy. Respiratory Biology of Animals is an accessible supplementary text suitable for both senior undergraduate and graduate students taking courses in respiratory biology, comparative animal physiology, and environmental physiology. It is also of relevance and use to the many professional academics requiring a concise but authoritative overview of the topic.

Treatise on Zoology - Anatomy, Taxonomy, Biology. The Myriapoda Lonely Planet

A world is revealed to me in every drawing. The graphic vocabulary of Bettina Krieg (born 1981 in Würzburg, lives and works in Berlin) is made up of fine, monochrome lines, repeatedly rearranged by the artist in large-format compositions. Through her reductions, Krieg's drawings appear ascetic and their spiritual pull follows such greats as Hilma Af Klint or Agnes Martin. The artist leaves open to interpretation whether microscopic processes are depicted or the detail view is impeded in favor of a large whole. In combination with the unusually large paper formats, the process of drawing becomes a genuine physical act: once the artist has isolated a particular movement, she repeats it into sheer endlessness - often lying down physically to be able to fill the paper completely. The monograph Stream summarizes ten years of artistic creation for the first time. The book contains a text written by Julia Voss, as well as an interview conducted by Phillip Felsch.

In the early days of the Roman Empire, the noble Etruscan civilization in Italy is waning, Vesi, a young Etruscan noblewoman, is violated by a renegade supernatural being. Outcast then from Etruria, Vesi bears Horatrim, a child who carries inexplicable knowledge and grows to manhood in only six years. But a savage Roman attack leaves Vesi unresponsive and Horatrim homeless and vulnerable, and he travels to Rome where his talents confound powerful businessman Propertius, who arranges to adopt Horatrim as a son, changing his name to Horatius. And all the while his demon father is seeking him to kill him, for Horatius is a conduit through which the demon might be found and destroyed. What happens if the world unexpectedly stands still for a moment? If, just like that, you are given a bit of time by sheer luck? This is exactly what happens in one of the biggest and busiest cities of the world, as a small snail crosses the street and makes traffic stop for half a day. A book about things that you always wanted to do but never had the time for. Reviews"charming"-Kirkus Reviews"A proposal to improve the world"-Westfälische Nachrichten"humorous"-Ehrensens"interesting not just in its story or its message, but also in how it delivers that message. The colors and backgrounds have a rich sense of texture, unlike the majority of children's books."-ForeWord Clarion Reviews"fabulous"-Spiegel Online"A creative bedtime story, which is also suitable for stressed adults. [...] In the bustle of the city, the animals seize the moment and become aware of how beautiful life can be without stress and hustle."-Designers in Action"sets out to demonstrate what can happen when we're true to ourselves, when we seize our day, when we live in the present, when we actually feel and enjoy the weather, when we are spontaneous, when we break from routine, when we defy expectation, and how these rather small acts of joy can inspire others"-Amazon.com Customer Review"beautiful"-Geizkragen"The story of a little snail who triggers big changes."-Münstersche Zeitung

The first and so far only Plant Geography of Chile was written about 100 years ago, since when many things have changed: plants have been renamed and reclassified; taxonomy and systematics have experienced deep changes as have biology, geography, and biogeography. The time is therefore ripe for a new look at Chile's plants and their distribution. Focusing on three key issues - botany/systematics, geography and biogeographical analysis - this book presents a thoroughly updated synthesis both of Chilean plant geography and of the different approaches to studying it. Because of its range - from the neotropics to the temperate sub-Antarctic - Chile's flora provides a critical insight into evolutionary patterns, particularly in relation to the distribution along the latitudinal profiles and the global geographical relationships of the country's genera. The consequences of these relations for the evolution of the Chilean Flora are discussed. This book will provide a valuable resource for both graduate students and researchers in botany, plant taxonomy and systematics, biogeography, evolutionary biology and plant conservation.

School refusal affects up to 5% of children and is a complex and stressful issue for the child, their family and school. The more time a child is away from school, the more difficult it is for the child to resume normal school life. If school refusal becomes an ongoing issue it can negatively impact the child's social and educational development. Psychologist Joanne Garfi spends most of her working life assisting parents, teachers, school counsellors, caseworkers, and community policing officers on how best to deal with school refusal. Now her experiences and expertise are available in this easy-to-read practical book. Overcoming School Refusal helps readers understand this complex issue by explaining exactly what school refusal is and provides them with a range of strategies they can use to assist children in returning to school. Areas covered include: • types of school refusers • why children refuse to go to school • symptoms • short term and long term consequences • accurate assessment • treatment options • what parents can do • what schools can do • dealing with anxious high achievers • how to help children on the autism spectrum with school refusal Zweisprachiges Bilderbuch Deutsch-Albanisch Was passiert, wenn die Welt unerwartet einen Augenblick still steht? Wenn man eine Handvoll Zeit, einfach so, durch einen Zufall geschenkt bekommt? Genau das passiert in einer der größten und umtriebigen Städte der Welt, als eine kleine Schnecke die Straße überquert und den Verkehr für einen halben Tag zum Erliegen bringt. Ein Buch über Dinge, die man schon immer mal tun wollte, aber nie dazu kam. Rezensionen "bezaubernd" -- Kirkus Reviews "verträumte Geschichte ums Innehalten [...] macht auch

Erwachsenen noch Spaß" -- Börsenblatt, Fachzeitschrift für den deutschen Buchhandel "Nimm man das Bilderbuch 'Fünf Meter Zeit' [...] in die Hand, so ist die Wahrscheinlichkeit besonderer Wahrnehmung und Aufmerksamkeitsanregung groß. [...] Spielerische Konzentration, interpretierende Wahrnehmung und kindlich-logisches Philosophieren werden die Quintessenz der Beschäftigung mit diesem mehrsprachigen Bilderbuch in vielen Sprachen sein." -- Chancen frühkindlicher Literalität, Fachbuch Pädagogik "Die Geschichte einer kleinen Schnecke, die viel bewirkt" -- Münstersche Zeitung "Wir sehen die Kinderbücher als echte Bereicherung für den Deutsch-Unterricht in der Primarstufe, für den DAZ- Bereich und darüber hinaus als Vorleseempfehlung für alle Eltern und KindergartenpädagogInnen" -- Österreichisches Schulportal "Ein Vorschlag zur Weltverbesserung" -- Westfälische Nachrichten "nicht nur interessant durch seine Geschichte oder seine Botschaft, sondern auch durch die Art, wie diese vermittelt wird. Die Farben und die Hintergründe sind reich an Textur, im Gegensatz zur Mehrzahl der Kinderbücher." -- ForeWord Clarion Reviews "eine kreative Gute-Nacht-Geschichte, die auch für gestresste Erwachsene geeignet ist. [...] Im Trubel der Großstadt genießen die Tiere den Augenblick und werden sich bewusst, wie schön das Leben ohne Stress und Hektik sein kann." -- Designer in Action
